v.

SHALITA K. CORLEY

CRIMINAL NO. 2:15cr<sup>25</sup>
18 U.S.C. § 1703(a) (Secreting and Detaining U.S. Mail - Counts 1 - 4)

INDICTMENT

MARCH 2015 TERM -- at Norfolk, Virginia

THE GRAND JURY CHARGES THAT:

COUNT ONE

On or about February 3, 2015, in Norfolk in the Eastern District of Virginia, defendant SHALITA K. CORLEY, an employee of the United States Postal Service who came into the possession of and was entrusted with letters, postal cards, packages, bags, and other pieces of mail which were intended to be conveyed by mail and carried and delivered by any carrier and other employee of the United States Postal Service, knowingly and unlawfully secreted, destroyed, detained, and delayed such items; that is, while working as a city carrier assistant with the United States Postal Service, SHALITA K. CORLEY received assorted items of mail for delivery to persons in Norfolk and, rather than properly delivering said items to the intended recipients, SHALITA K. CORLEY disposed of these items by dumping them into an overgrown lot adjacent to the Lafayette River and a residential neighborhood in Norfolk, Virginia.

(In violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1703(a)).

COUNT TWO

On or about January 30, 2015, in Norfolk in the Eastern District of Virginia, defendant SHALITA K.
